Chelydra has been a student of middle eastern dance since 1978, and began performing professionally in 1981. She was the director and choreographer of the Caravan East dance troupe from 1981-1997, and has been an instructor at the award-winning Fields Dance Studio since 1985. Chelydra is a nationally-known author, performer, and instructor. A contributing author and two-time featured cover dancer for Zaghareet! magazine, she is also the producer of the No-Frills series of instructional videos, sponsors the annual Beach Blanket Beledi retreat in Nags Head, NC, and produces the Oriental Odyssey series of professional concerts featuring dances of North Africa and the Middle East. In 2004 and 2006, her choreographies were selected to be performed in the Old Dominion University Local Choreographer's Showcase. She considers dance to be serious fun, and describes herself as a "Dancer with an Attitude" – sometimes good, sometimes bad, but always mischievous.

About Belly Dance Classes

All-over exercise for the body and mind! In this fascinating dance form, a good foundation is everything. Learn the dance that has mesmerized audiences for generations. Class emphasizes clear, crisp isolation techniques from your fingertips to your toes: circle, sway, ripple, and undulate your way into the hypnotic movements of middle eastern dance! Build on that foundation to layer the individual isolations into combinations for captivating, creative belly dance. This is a truly liberating form of expression of your inner and outer beauty!

To get the most out of your classes, come dressed in comfortable clothing that will allow you to move freely. You can dance in your bare feet, or wear socks or dance shoes.

A lending library is available at the studio with magazines and catalogs offering belly dancing supplies (such as music, videos, jewelry, and costumes and costume patterns). We also have at least one annual field trip to Scheherezade Imports in Rockville, VA, a major national middle eastern dance importer and supplier.

Chelydra also offers a series of instructional videos in middle eastern dance which you can use to study at home in between classes. The videos are $25 each.

Creative Coaching By Appointment

Looking for something less than a formal class, but more than working on your own? Consider a coaching session, tailored to your specific needs: tune up your technique, add zip & punch to a choreography, get a little push to stretch your creative horizons ... whatever! Call now to work out a session or program just for you.

Chelydra is available for private and group classes, coaching sessions, and seminars.
